Outdoor BookBy Sue SolakianThis is a great book for young explorers and parents to help teach their kids about the outdoors in a fun and educational way. Great title awful book!By AmandaWhen I came home with a stack of books from the library a couple of weeks ago this was the book I was looking forward to reading the most. It was also the biggest disappointment! The title is catchy but the information throughout the books makes me wonder if the author has ever planted a realistic garden with his kids. I'd pass on this one!

Let writer and gardener Jeff Hutton show you and your kids how to grow your own food and your favorite flowers, attract butterflies, create crafts, and more. Teach your children how to start garden seeds indoors as well as how to prepare soil, plant seeds, and transplant seedlings. Additionally, there are over a dozen fun recipes and instructions for making stepping stones, decorating egg carton planters, planting a sunflower maze, and much more. Parents and children are sure to have a blast in the garden all year round!

About the AuthorJeff Hutton is the author of the novel Perfect Silence, an ABA Book Sense Pick, and Inside Out: The Art and Craft of Home Landscaping. He is a landscape designer and lives in Vernon, Connecticut.
